Can a liquid cooling battery energy storage system improve energy reliability in Panama?

On October 18, 2024, a 372kWh liquid cooling battery energy storage system (BESS) was successfully installed in Panama. GSL Energy, a China-based manufacturer specializing in energy storage solutions, purchased the system. This project aims to enhance energy reliability and efficiency in Panama's energy grid.

What is Panama's power system like in 2017?

In 2017, Panama's power system had very large installed hydropower capacity (54% of total capacity) and substantial VRE capacity (45.3%). The generation breakdown was 64% renewable energy (36% run-of-river hydro, 18% reservoir hydro, 8% wind, 2% solar photovoltaics (PV)) and 36% thermal generation (29% oil and 7% coal).

What is the Panama 372kwh outdoor liquid cooling battery energy storage system?

The Panama 372kWh Outdoor Liquid Cooling battery energy storage system (BESS) project demonstrates the successful deployment of cutting-edge energy storage technology in a challenging environment. This installation serves as a model for future projects aiming to enhance energy resilience and sustainability in the region.

Will Panama's power system handle a higher penetration of VRE?

Table 3 presents the values of these indicators for the 2030 renewables scenario with an optimised generation capacity mix. Panama's power system would still have enough flexibility to handle even higher penetration of VRE, as seen in the 2030 renewables scenario with investments.

Are solar PV and battery storage optimum investments?

In the renewables scenario, an additional 1.7 GW of solar PV and 164 MW (82 MWh) of battery storage are identified as optimal under current assumptions (reaching a 69% renewable energy share), while no further cost-efficient investments in wind power have been identified. Additional investments beyond the identified optimum were also analysed.

How much energy does Panama need?

Panama expects total energy demand to more than double between 2017 and 2030 (+113%), with peak demand growing from 1.6 GW to 3.5 GW. Panama is currently connected to Costa Rica via a 300 MW transmission line. A 400 MW high-voltage direct current (HVDC) interconnector with Colombia is expected to be commissioned by 2022.
