How much solar power does a campervan need?

An 800w system will comfortably support an entire campervan electrical system 100% off solar, year round. No need for shore power or driving. Though you'll always need to monitor usage and battery levels, with a solar system this size, you'll comfortably have enough power to meet the needs of 4 people.

What size solar panel for a campervan?

An 800 watt solar panel set up is a good size for 4 people with a large RV or camper with roof space for the panels. An 800w system will comfortably support an entire campervan electrical system 100% off solar, year round. No need for shore power or driving.

How much energy does an 800W solar panel generate?

Therefore, an 800w solar panel system will generate a maximum of 330-400ah per day. Although you may use some of that energy as you generate it, it's more simple and prudent to err on the side of caution. So the minimum size battery bank you need for a 800w set up is 400ah - more if you don't install Lithiums.

Does an 800 watt solar array require an inverter?

An 800-watt solar array does not necessarily need an 800-watt solar inverter. It is often recommended to undersize the inverter relative to the solar array power. The recommended array-to-inverter ratio is between 1 to 1.55. So for an 800-watt array, the inverter could be as small as 516 watts.

Can a solar panel charge a campervan battery?

The wiring diagrams show only the supply side installation of a 800 watt solar panel system. They go as far as charging the battery. For the load side detail, check out our post on campervan wiring. They exclude charging the battery from shore power or the alternator.
